General Fund Type: Equity Large Cap

Specific Sizes or Types of Investments: Large cap companies with at least 2 Billion in market cap

Financial Objective: Long-term capital appreciation

Specific ESG Focus: Boston Common integrates financial and sustainability factors into its investment process because we believe Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) research helps us identify companies that will be successful over the long-term. We believe successful investors need to assess a company's fundamentals, or an industry's evolution, in the wider context of economic, environmental, social and financial stability. We seek companies that can capitalize on new market opportunities, implement efficiency improvements, and avoid unanticipated costs stemming from inadequate attention to ESG risks. As a result, we believe ESG research helps improve portfolio quality and financial return potential. As global investors, we have built an extensive network of research sources, NGOs and activist groups to improve our understanding of corporate conduct in all markets. We use our voice on behalf of the Fund's shareholders to raise environmental, social, and governance issues with the management of select portfolio companies through a variety of channels. These include dialogue with management, voting proxies in accordance with ESG guidelines, and participation in the annual shareholder meeting process. Through these efforts, Boston Common seeks to steer company managements towards greater transparency, accountability, and longer term thinking.

Methodology

Screening Venue: In-house

Screening Party: Boston Common has 16 employees dedicated to investments, including four on the ESG research/shareholder engagement side. We consider this the full investment team. All investment team members contribute to the international equity strategy in some capacity.

Screening Database Used: Our ESG team utilizes a number of outside resources when researching companies, including ESG street research, company filings, non-government organizations, etc. We rely on the fundamental judgment of our ESG research professionals to determine whether a company is appropriate for our portfolios.

Screening Process: Our ESG research process integrates information from disparate sources to form a holistic understanding of corporate performance. We review company filings, trade journals, and industry reports to understand a company’s products and activities, and place it in context with its peers. We search business and news databases to capture events and analyses related to corporate practices. We reference additional databases that document defense contracts, legal proceedings, and environmental violations, as well as subscribing to specialized ESG data services. We communicate regularly with a range of stakeholder organizations, about corporate behavior on the ground. We query corporate management through meetings, letter campaigns, emails, and phone calls about areas of particular concern. Drawing on this mosaic of sources, our analysts distill conclusions about a company’s overall profile across the full set of ESG issue areas.

Specific Screening Information by Category

Environment

- Climate / Clean Technology: Combination of Positive and Restricted/Exclusionary Strategies - The Fund seeks companies that produce innovative, desirable products. The Fund avoids companies that are major coal producers; companies whose primary revenues come from the mining of uranium or the production of electric power relying on coal or nuclear power. The Fund also avoids companies whose primary revenues are from producing corn-based ethanol and that generate their primary revenues from the mining, processing or production of tar sands. In challenging sectors, our goal is to find companies that are leaders on ESG issues relative to industry peers, and avoid ESG laggards.

- Pollution / Toxics: Combination of Positive and Restricted/Exclusionary Strategies - The Fund seeks companies with superior records in environmental responsibility and avoids companies that are egregious violators of regulations or exhibit a pattern of negligence.

- Other Environmental: Combination of Positive and Restricted/Exclusionary Strategies - The Fund seeks to invest in companies that display a commitment to good standards and compliance. The Fund avoids companies that receive significant revenues from nuclear power plant design, construction, maintenance or parts.

• Shareholder Engagement - Shareholder Resolutions: Filed or co-filed with companies on environmental, social or governance issues.

• Shareholder Engagement - Private Dialogue: Conducted with companies on environmental, social or governance issues.

• Description of Shareholder Engagement: We use shareholder leverage to influence corporate and industry practices globally, often in collaboration with coalitions of shareholders and activist organizations. Avenues for promoting change include constructive dialogue, targeted data gathering and promoting industry best practices, key performance indicator (KPIs) and metrics development, multi-stakeholder initiatives shareholder resolutions, public policy testimony, and proxy voting. We develop our engagement strategy as long-term, global investors. We have access to high-level management, including, in some cases, board members and CEOs. Over the years, our team has built up a network of corporate, investor, industry and non-governmental organizations around the world. These organizations serve as invaluable sounding boards for us on shareholder engagement issues, and have partnered with us on numerous shareholder initiatives. We have served as founding members or leadership roles in industry initiatives such as the Access to Medicines Index (ATM Index) Access to Nutrition Index (ATNI), the Global Network Initiative (GNI), and the Investor Environmental Health Network (IEHN). We have also played a leading role in building partnerships with organizations such as the Interfaith Center on Corporate Responsibility (ICCR), the Ecumenical Council for Corporate Responsibility (ECCR), Ceres, ASrA, the International Corporate Governance Network (ICGN), and the Principles for Responsible Investment (PRI) to develop a platform on social, environmental and corporate governance issues and coordinate shareholder engagement with other investors.
